

PEDESTRIANS DON'T HAVE ARMOR

ACTIVITY BOOK

Help Wes
as he practices fun
pedestrian safety exercises!

Help Wes get to school through the fun pedestrian safety exercises outlined in this activity book. Remember, Wes might have armor, but you don't. Pay attention and be aware of your surroundings at all times, especially near schools and busy intersections. ENJOY!

Traffic safety signs can be confusing, but knowing what they mean can help you stay safe. Can you help Wes match each one with their correct meaning?

A. You are at a railroad crossing. Look both ways, and listen carefully for trains. Remember, they move extremely fast!

B. You are near a school. Look carefully for nearby cars and follow directions if you see a crossing guard.

C. Don't walk. It is not safe to cross the street because cars are still moving where you need to cross.

D. It's your turn to walk. But, even if you see this symbol, ALWAYS look both ways for cars before crossing.

E. Cars and bikes must stop at the intersection. BUT, always make sure drivers and bicyclists obey this sign before you cross the street.

We wants his friends to get to school safely, too. He likes to help remind them about good safety behaviors. Can you find the good and bad safety behaviors in each of these pictures?

GOOD BEHAVIOR

Circle all the things you can find that are right in this picture.

At school, a crossing guard helps Wes and his friends cross the street safely. The crossing guard tells cars when to stop for pedestrians, and reminds Wes and his friends to walk in a single line as they cross the street. But before you color the picture, check out these important tips for safe walking!

- Don't forget to wear bright colors. They help others see you better.
- Even if you think it's safe to cross a street, ALWAYS look left, right, and left again.
- Only cross the street when you are at a crosswalk or intersection with signals. Never try to cross anywhere else.
- Don't read books, play games or listen to music while you are walking. Save those for another time!
